SUPPLEMENT TO
THE TIMES VIRGINIAN

Father Darkleaf

BY
CALVIN ROBINSON

Greetings. To You and to November. In my case, the first week will be taken up getting used to the time change, and adjusting to seeing such a mass of leaves. Last week my maple tree was a mass of gold, now it is wearing Nature's bikini. How did you come out Hallowe'en night? Generally there is more "treating" than "tricking." As usual, this copy is written Monday morning, so the Martha Street tally has not been computed. Brightleaf says she has "treats" prepared for those arriving early and when they are distributed, it will be curfew.

* * *

Ah yes, more "treats" than "tricks." A friend gave us a pre-Hallowe'en gift of a dozen hot rolls and jar of preserves. Another brought a jar of apple-tomato chutney. And another some fresh Florida fruit and a copy of The Atlanta Journal-Constitution. Thanks.

ACHS and Amherst high schools meet this week in the renewal of a long football rivalry. I read some place that the oldest football rivalry in Virginia at the college level is Hampden-Sydney - Randolph-Macon. The VMI and U. of Virginia game should be a thriller and may set up the Big Five championship. Slippery Rock fans are pleased at last Saturday's score, a 15 to 10 win over Delaware, of Pa. The Redskins are limping along and I note that the coach at U. of California is named John Robinson; no kin to yours truly.

* * *

Election Day is nearing in Virginia and there are an estimated 2,020,623 registered voters. We are in the Fifth Congressional District, and there are 201,889 registered voters in our district, 261 less than for last year's Presidential election. At stake is the next occupant of The Governor's Manson in Richmond, Lieut Governor and Attorney General, and the fate of a number of bond issue proposals. And one county office in Appomattox. To the best of my memory last time I was in the Governor's Mansion in Richmond was during the administration of Gov. John Garland Pollard. For some reason or other the top turn-out of voters in Virginia is in Presidential elections, but every election is an important one and you are urged to exercise your sacred privilege of voting.

Around town . . . saw two men with metal detectors going over the school football grounds. Probably someone lost a ring or other metal valuable . . . saw an ad from a country store saying that among other things for sale they had "pig rings." Placed in the nose they keep pigs from rooting . . . Mark Twain in his story "Royalty on The Mississippi" has one of his characters spelling a most important word, 'g'yirls." . . . The school Drama Club is readying a play for presentation Nov. 9 and 10. "They'd Hang You in Nashville." I was in Nashville once, but did not attend the "Grand Ole Opery." I urge support of local plays, not merely for good entertainment but to give local talent a chance to perform . . . what is the world's greatest river? The Appomattox, the James, the Missouri - Mississippi? I have a bound volume of The late Century Magzine issues of 1884-85 and an article on The Nile River won my attention, especially that for its last 1,700 miles before flowing north into the Mediterranean Sea it goes without a tributary, on its own . . . congratulations to our fine Rescue Squad on its successful drive for funds . . . this has been yet another rambling column, handing it out in minnows and in whales, but thanks for reading and seeya next week.

The Bible Baptist Church has just finished its Annual Missions Conference and the Missionary Speaker for the week, Bro. N. G. Leap, was presented the keys to a Four Wheel Drive Suburban. Pictured are Mr. Jimmie Pierce, Brother Leap, and Pastor Earnie Lucas.

Because of Brother Leap's need for a 4-wheel drive vehicle, to work with the Navajo Indians and other tribes in Colorado, Jimmie Pierce let the church have the Suburban, which is fully equipped, for only $8,000.00. This vehicle normally sells for around $12,000.00.

Needless to say, this past Monday morning Brother Leap left Appomattox with a happy heart and his 4-wheel drive Suburban.

Bible Baptist Holds Annual Missions Conference

This past week the Bible Baptist Church held its Annual Missions Conference. Dr. C. O. Jackson, Jr., from Coleyville, Texas, was our guest speaker each night and preached powerfully from the Word of God.

Brother N. G. Leap, our missionary to the Indians in Colorado, showed slides each night and told of his work among the Indians. The church presented Brother Leap with the keys to a 4-wheel drive Suburban to be used in his work in the mountainous area.

For the first ten (10 months of this year the Bible Baptist Church gave $17,173.99 to Missions. We support our missionaries on a regular monthly basis plus helping out a missionary that is in need. We are thankful that the Lord has used the Bible Baptist Church to help spread the Gospel around the world. We are trusting that in this coming year we might be blessed of the Lord and able to do even more for Missions.
